The Smarter Alternative to Synthetic Antioxidants

The food industry is shifting to clean-label, natural formulations as consumers increasingly reject synthetic additives, seeking safer, more transparent ingredients. This drives manufacturers to adopt natural solutions that meet performance and market demands.

At Btsa, we offer Tocobiol®, a natural tocopherol-based antioxidant from non-GMO soy and sunflower oils, specially formulated as an alternative to replace synthetic antioxidants in food applications, offering strong oxidative protection while supporting clean-label positioning and consumer trust.

Tocobiol®
